CURRENT FULL-STACK PROJECT

2026 – Present | RoleNaviq | Full-Stack Job Application Management Platform

- Building a full-stack TypeScript application to track, search, filter and manage job applications using a React/Vite frontend and a Node.js/Express/MongoDB backend.
- Designed a modular architecture with clear boundaries between the React client, API/service layer, server state, form state and validation, improving maintainability, scalability and separation of concerns.
- Implemented JWT authentication with HttpOnly cookies, protected routes and server-side resource ownership checks, with TanStack Router for client-side routing.
- Used TanStack Query for API fetching, caching and synchronization, together with React Hook Form and Zod for form-state management and validation.
- Work in progress: continuously scaling and extending the platform through automated API, component and E2E tests, accessibility checks, CI integration and AI-powered workflows using LLM APIs and RAG.

Tech: TypeScript, React, Vite, TanStack Query, TanStack Router, React Hook Form, Zod, Node.js, Express, MongoDB, Mongoose, JWT, Cypress, OpenAI API, RAG
